Comment: I am a common citizen with lots of elder relatives who do no understand English and have learning disabilities. I have spent many years teaching them 911 and the main thing I have taught them is that they need a phone, any phone, whether it has a service or not. All they need to call 911 is a charged phone or a land line. Even though they have access to land line phone in my home they do not have phone with them all the time. In those events they rely on knowledge that they can call 911 from any charged cell phone.

Now with the proposed changes I'll have to invest many years teaching all the seniors in my house to make sure that they have a cell phone with service while they can't learn or remember new things.

I am requesting to reject this proposal.
